

Cornell Brooks
Public Policy

2024 Global Forum for Financial Consumers

August 8-9, 2024

Cornell University, Ithaca NY USA

The Global Forum for Financial Consumers (GFFC) is the annual conference of the International Academy of Financial Consumers (IAFICO), providing an opportunity for international academics, policymakers, and professionals to share knowledge, experiences, and practical solutions for financial consumer protection.

Theme: Financial Inclusion & Financial Protection in a Changing Environment

All consumer financial spheres – including banking, insurance, investments, savings, and credit – and all regions of the globe are of interest.

Call for Papers

We invite proposals from experts, researchers, scholars, and practitioners. Topics could include, but are not limited to:

- Financial advice, financial planners and advisors
- Fintech, AI, ML, new technologies
- Open finance/banking
- Financial literacy, education, counseling, and therapy
- Digitalization, financial innovation and financial inclusion
- Unbanked/vulnerable consumer populations
- Consumer behaviors and financial wellbeing
- Consumer financial protection and regulations
- Financial consumers in aging societies
- Reducing insurance, savings, and protection gaps
- Islamic finance/Gulf studies
- Financial fraud and scam

Submit your detailed abstract or full paper with author contact information, by March 10, 2024, to iafico@iafico.org. Acceptances will be announced by April 15.

For more information, contact iafico@iafico.org

Other Conference Information:

Awards: Accepted manuscripts for which a full paper is submitted by June 30, 2024 will be considered for the 2024 GFFC Best Paper Awards.

Publication opportunities: A selection of papers presented at the GFFC will be invited for publication in the International Review of Financial Consumers (IRFC).

Conference registration fee: IAFICO members US$100, non-members US$200.

Information about local accommodations and travel: will be forthcoming.

Travel Scholarships: With financial support from Sungkyunkwan University, IAFICO may offer several travel scholarships (Conference Registration Fee + US$300) to persons who have paid for membership and who will present at the GFFC. We will provide travel scholarships only to assistant professors, junior lecturers, or doctoral candidates who will be presenting a paper onsite at the conference. In the case of joint research, the travel scholarship will be divided by the number of participants.

Association Information

Email: iafico@iafico.org

Membership | financialconsumers \(iafico.org\)

Membership Application | financialconsumers \(iafico.org\)

Membership dues: US$50 per year

Program Committee

Patricia BORN, Florida State University, United States

Chul CHOI, Sookmyung University, Korea

Brenda CUDE, University of Georgia, United States

James DEVENNEY, University of Reading, United Kingdom

Iwona Dorota CZECHOWSKA, University of Lodz, Poland

Thi Thanh Van DINH, Vietnam National University, Vietnam

Sun Young HWANG, Sookmyung University, Korea

Michelle KELLY-LOUW, University of Cape Town, South Africa

Hong Mu LEE, Waseda University, Japan

So Young LIM, Waseda University, Japan

Peter MORGAN, Asia Development Bank Institute, Japan

Satoshi NAKAIDE, Waseda University, Japan

Gianni NICOLINI, University of Rome, Italy

Sojung PARK, Seoul National University, Korea

Maji RHEE, Waseda University, Japan

Aditi ROUTH, Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, United States

Mohamed Fazli SABRI, Universiti Putra Malaysia, Malaysia

Sharon TENNYSON, Cornell University, United States

For more information, contact iafico@iafico.org